'Fuck you'-Issue 5 is here, and the war is still on. I'm glad to be able to tell you these facts:

- We're about to launch an upgraded weapon: www.fuckoffmag.com
- Their is news from the wall-front; more and better trained troops have arrived and have already been put in to action.
- We' re gaining territory in the east with very little casualties; the TBE-special troups took care of this.
- The train-infrastructure of the enemy was severely damaged through precision bombardments by elite-troops.

To reach our goal (world domination) we've put some scouts in Thailand and Australia, they have send some extraordinary samples and facts. But to gain total control, you must not ask what your magazine can do for you; ask what you can do for your magazine!

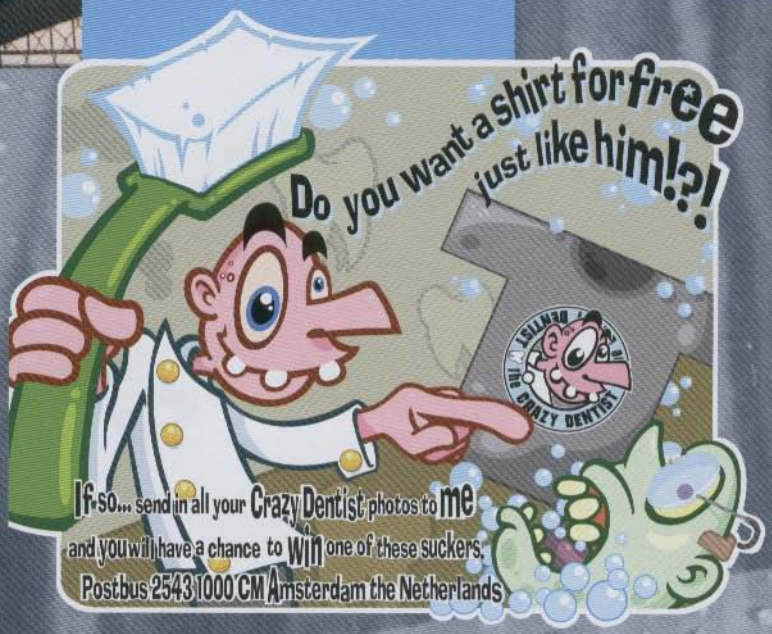
You say what!

After more than ten years of painting pleasure , we have come to a sad conclusion..... "Schellingwoudebrug" hall of fame is terminated! For many dutch and foreign writers who can appreciate a good wall with loads of space we see a great loss. All walls have been painted straight white and houses are being built right next to it.
The end.....?



Do you want a shirt for free just like him!?!

About two years ago while visiting Italy we first saw work performed by TH clan on Italian trains, it was all fresh pieces with new styles that caught my attention and as time passed we got flix and saw more stuff, I wondered what was up with these guys and asked.....

In 95/96 three guys, Skone, Smok and Zed formed the Clan, back than it was called "TIAK" (The illegal artist krew), and it was based on friendship more than personal needs. The following year the name turned into "TH CLAN", and the crew was hosting new members: EFYX, JEY.S, JESTER, TRAZE, D.J. TRAMA, MOZ. In 1997, our morbid relationship with the Railway System got started, but we never forgot the importance of painting walls in our city.

1998 came, in that year three more members joined the Clan: m.c. ZISO and CROK-B. Two years later, the last members joined: GOBLIN, PAN and ONE.

AMERSFOORT oldschool

Vasr 1994

Amersfoort
1986 till 2002.

A small city in the centre of Holland, with a community of only 125 000 inhabitants. It has a really big trainyard, wich consists of mainly freights, but because of its central position like Utrecht it has a shitload of passenger trains. This city is as Utrecht known for its relatively hardcore trainwritingscene. Where we had LIL and WOW in the past in Utrecht, you had AH (Amersfoort Hardcore), MA (Moving Actions) and later OFW (Out For Wheels) in Amersfoort.

Starting in the mid eighties there was a USA (Amsterdam) based tagstyle wich should be considered as the first stage of graffiti in Amersfoort, the person responsible for the beginning in Amersfoort was ZODIAK tagging up all of Amersfoort around 1986. Shortly after the beginning he got help from some other taggers writing FORMZ and LEX who killed Amersfoort. The first piece was probably done by the same person and more people followed, tagging and piecing. Late eighties more and more got done, Chaze HSK, Systm, Atec, Desiner, Jake(another one...), DBS(Rams, Spang, Casher) these people were tagging up all of Amersfoort and did pieces as well, legal jobs, tracksides etc. Some notorious Utrecht writers found their writing base as well in Amersfoort, guys like Wise, Bisar, Jer and Mellie started BBK down there. `89/`90 a lot of crews appeared, AH(Vans, Chel, Prisma, Dune, Rams, Dask.....baner), MA(Rams, Kan, Sank, baner, and later on Vesk joined), Six pack(Denone, Skar, Tryper, Prisma, Kaos). A lot of pieces were done by previous named writers and there were a lot of halls of fame like Liendertse dreef, a very active scene was the outcome.

But with all this active wallpiecing it only started, while in 1990 more and more subs got painted in Amsterdam, Amersfoort became a regular trainpainting spot....some guys of BBK became LIL, AH got it on, MA took it further but got fucked along the way, sick situations followed. AH became something of the past aswell did MA, after this bad 1993 experience the crew broke up. Shortly after a new crew appeared with a more than Amersfoort base and rocked the cradle.....OFW.

Even though this crew pissed of the NS bigtime and kept striking, graffiti started to fade out as it did everywhere in Holland, it slowed down in 1994 but got back up on its feet in 1996. As a writer INFERNO was able to convinse the Amersfoort politicians into a Legal hall of fame project wich is painted daily and still open....but more kept up the good work in the city Amersfoort.

Now that the older generation of writers either moved out of Amersfoort or quit writing.....it was up to a new generation, crews like TDS, OMC, and guys writing SORZE, SNORK, ATL(Grim, Zombie, Mer..) some guys piecing, others more on the bomb tip, another new crew coming up in these days was CHA doing tracksides, NBN crew bombin all out! As we continue we come to 1998 and we see guys like Supa, the DZ crew containing writers like Meks, Gazs, Sign and Dosis. A litle later on another crew came up strong MPS, painting legal jobs, HOF`s, tracksides, trains....and a crew they could relate to BK(Ciek, Spawn, Junk, Inferno) they became one...Other crews evolved into new stuff and styles like when you go to Amersfoort these days you`ll see HFL along the highway, as well as you will see the previous named writers and crews. So visit Amersfoort some day and see for yourself, check out the hall of fame (www.dutchdamage.com) at the extras.....
